

Birthd<sup>ay</sup> Party at the Princess's
Castle

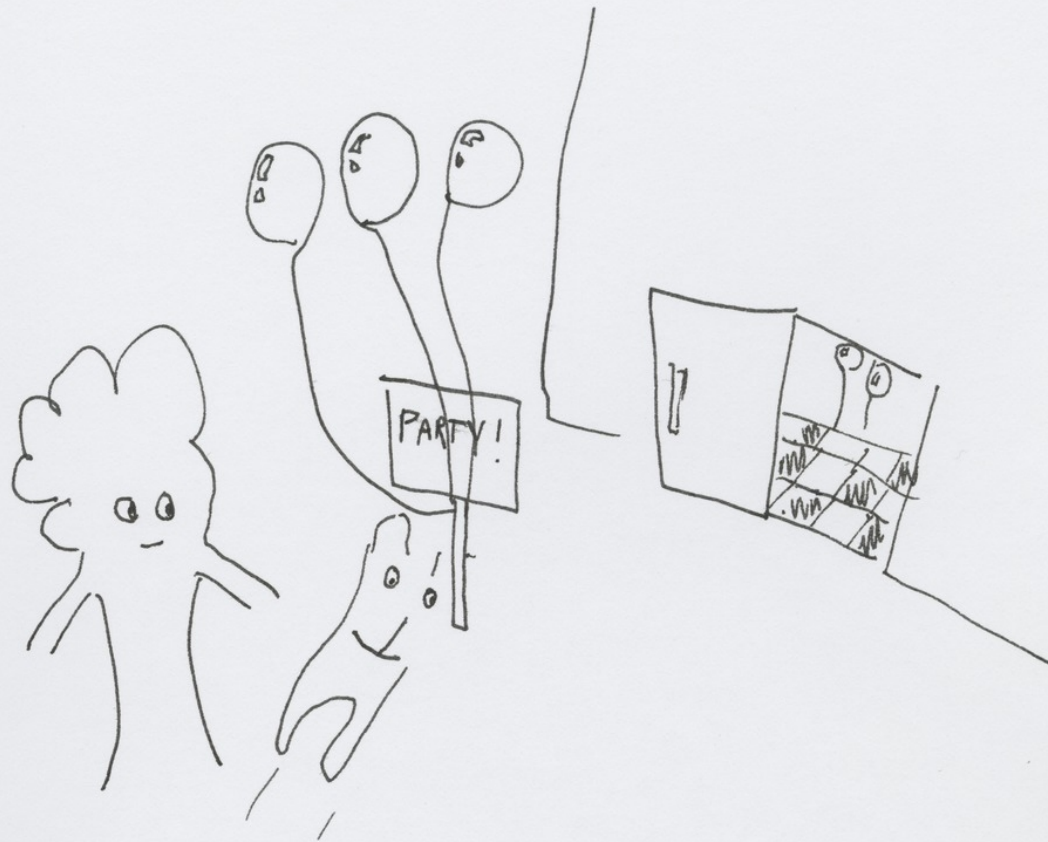

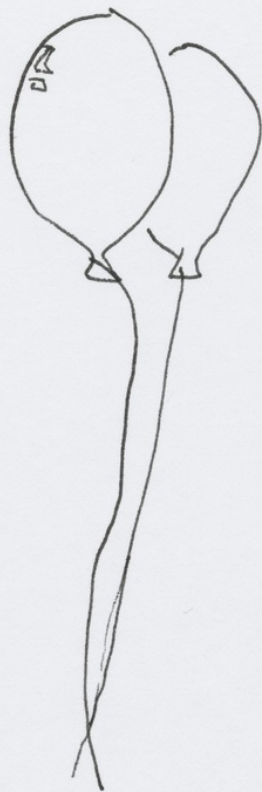

There was an apple tree named Bunny and a bunny named Apple Tree.

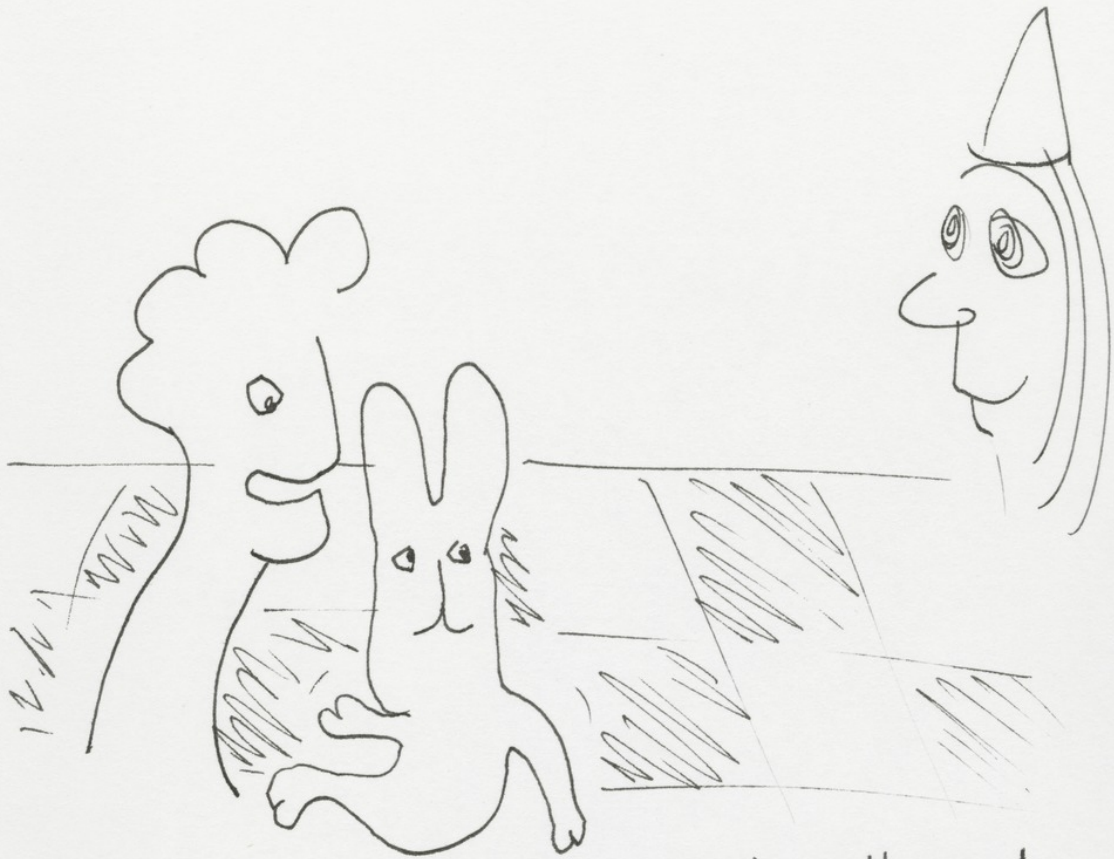

They were best friends.

They went to a birthday party at a castle.

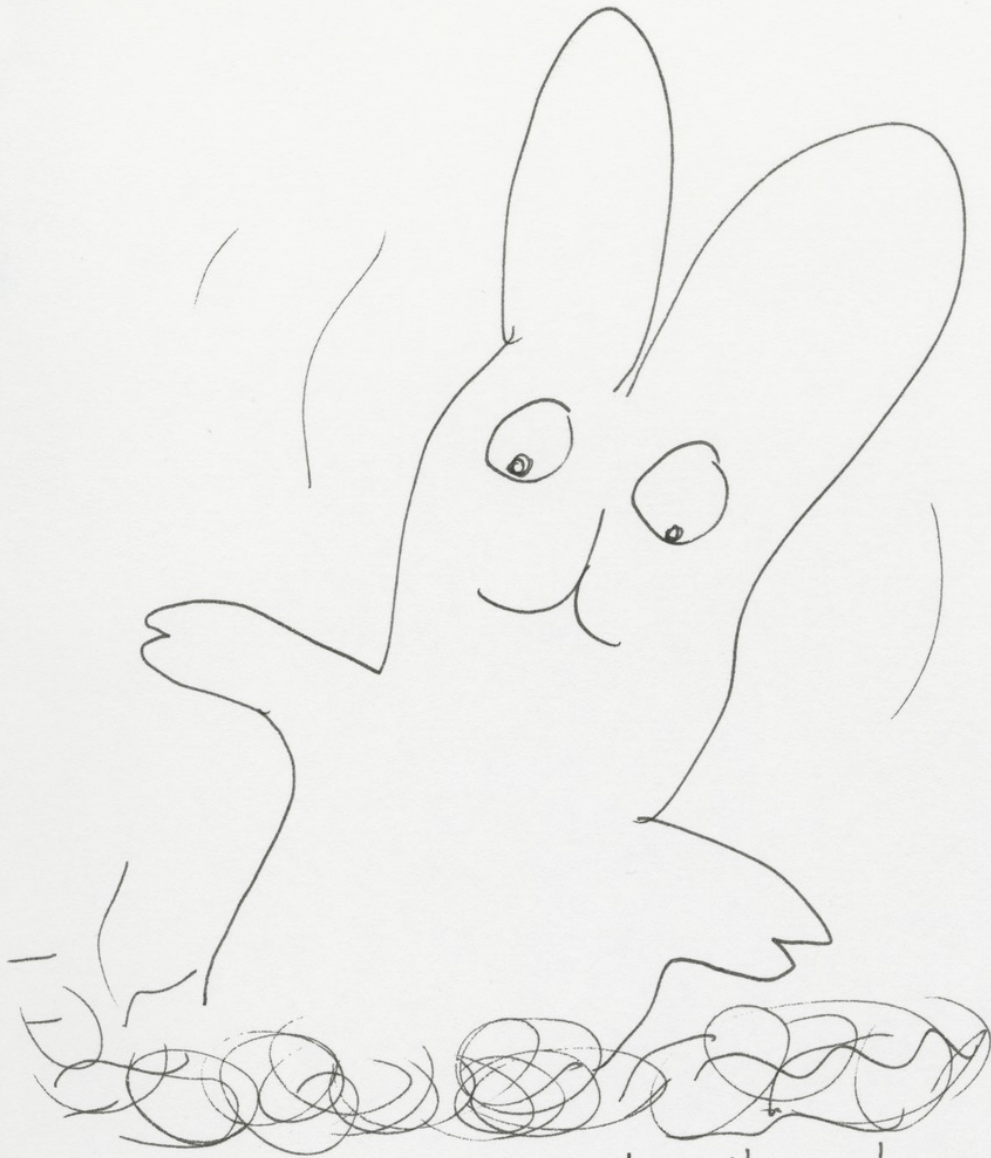

The princess was having a birthday party.

Bunny and Apple Tree came into the castle and said, "Look at this party!"

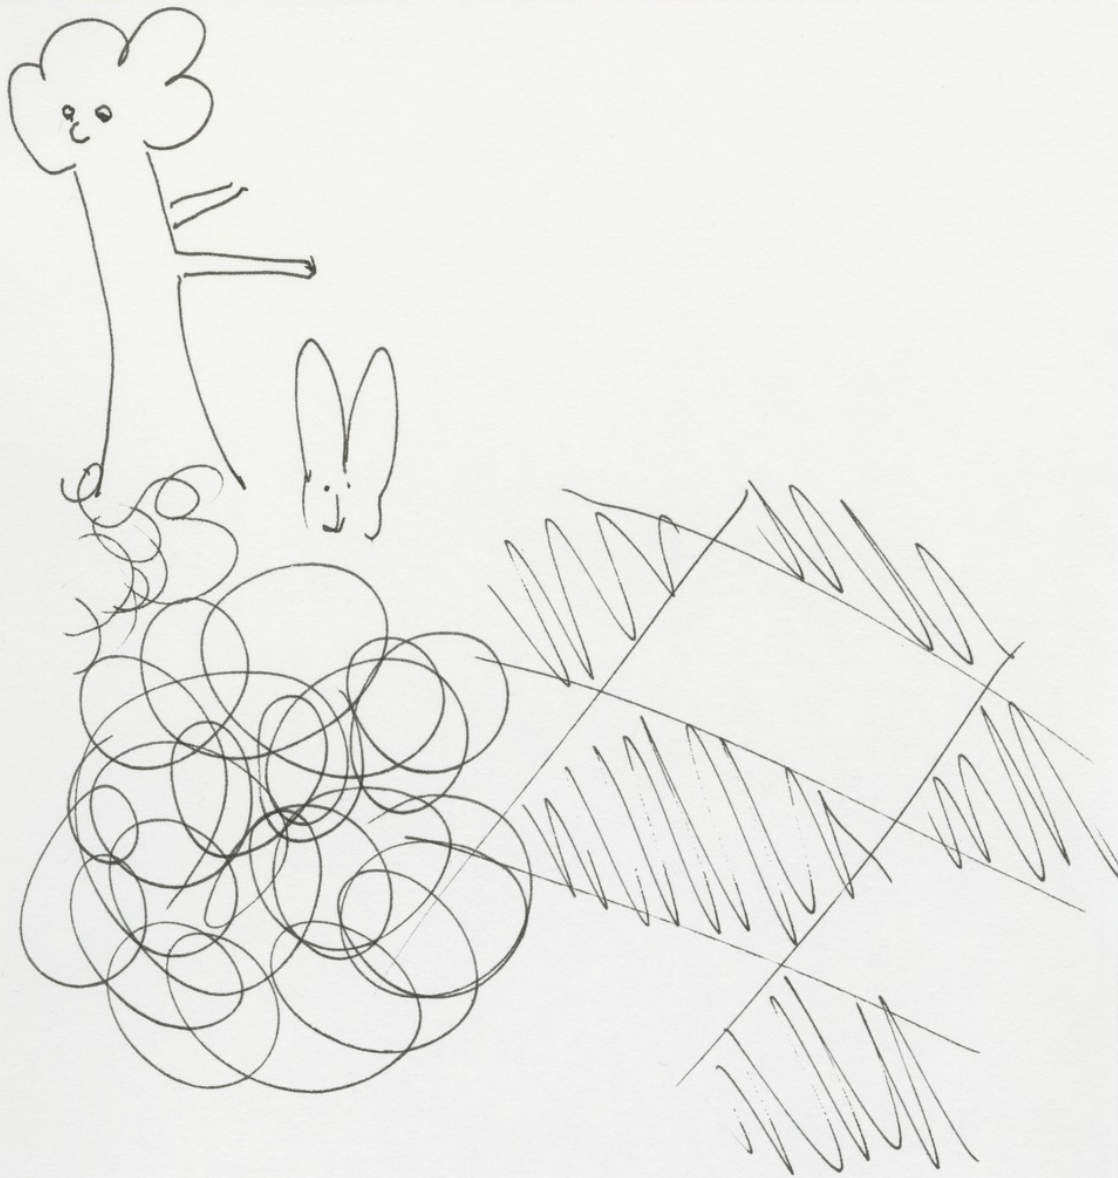

Bunny the apple tree stood there shaking off apples.

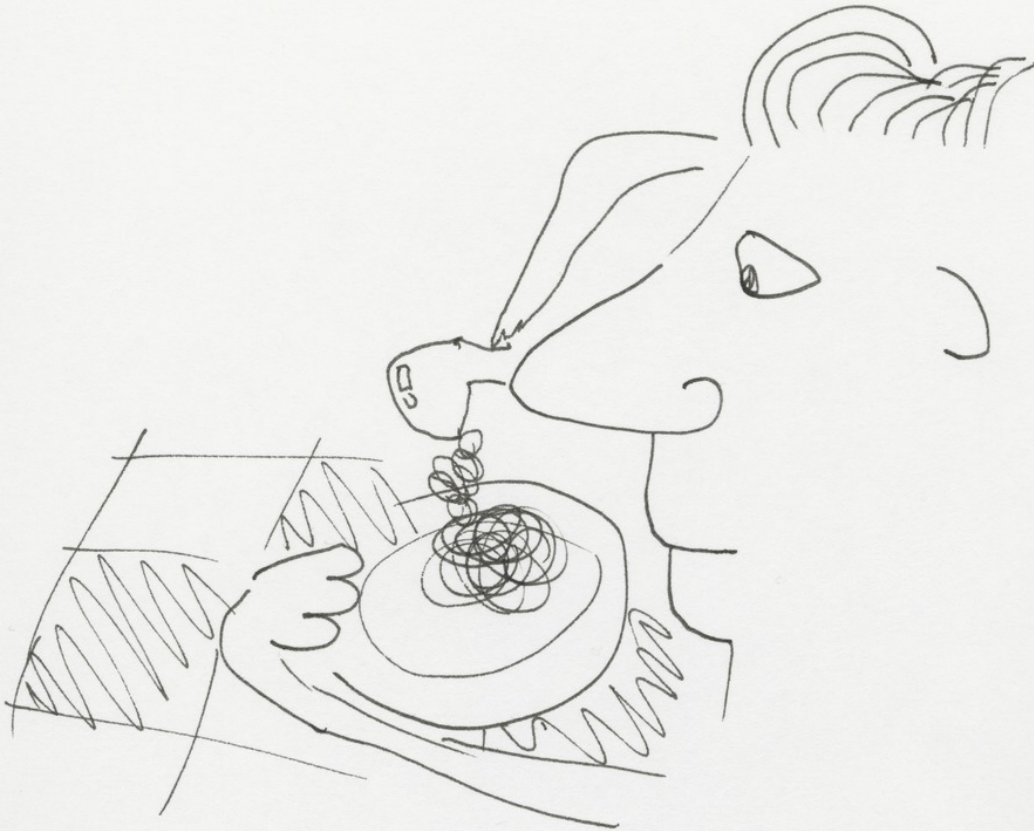

Apple Tree the bunny pounced on the apples until they were a soupy mess.

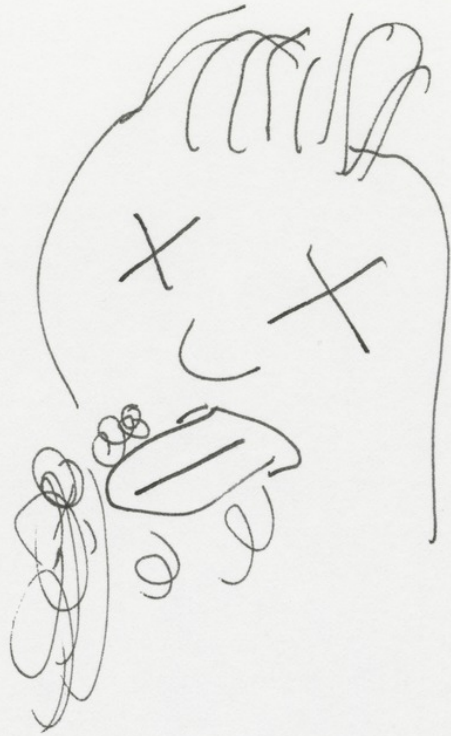

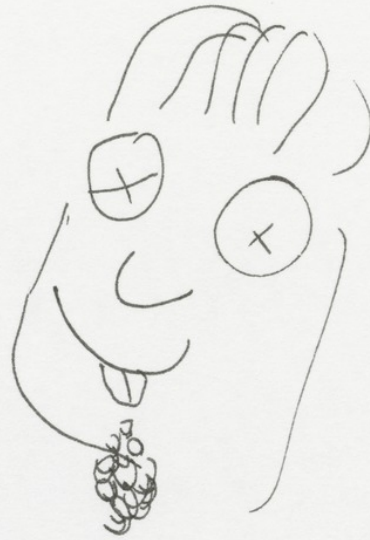

Except for the mess that Bunny's apples made,
the floor was as clean as can be.

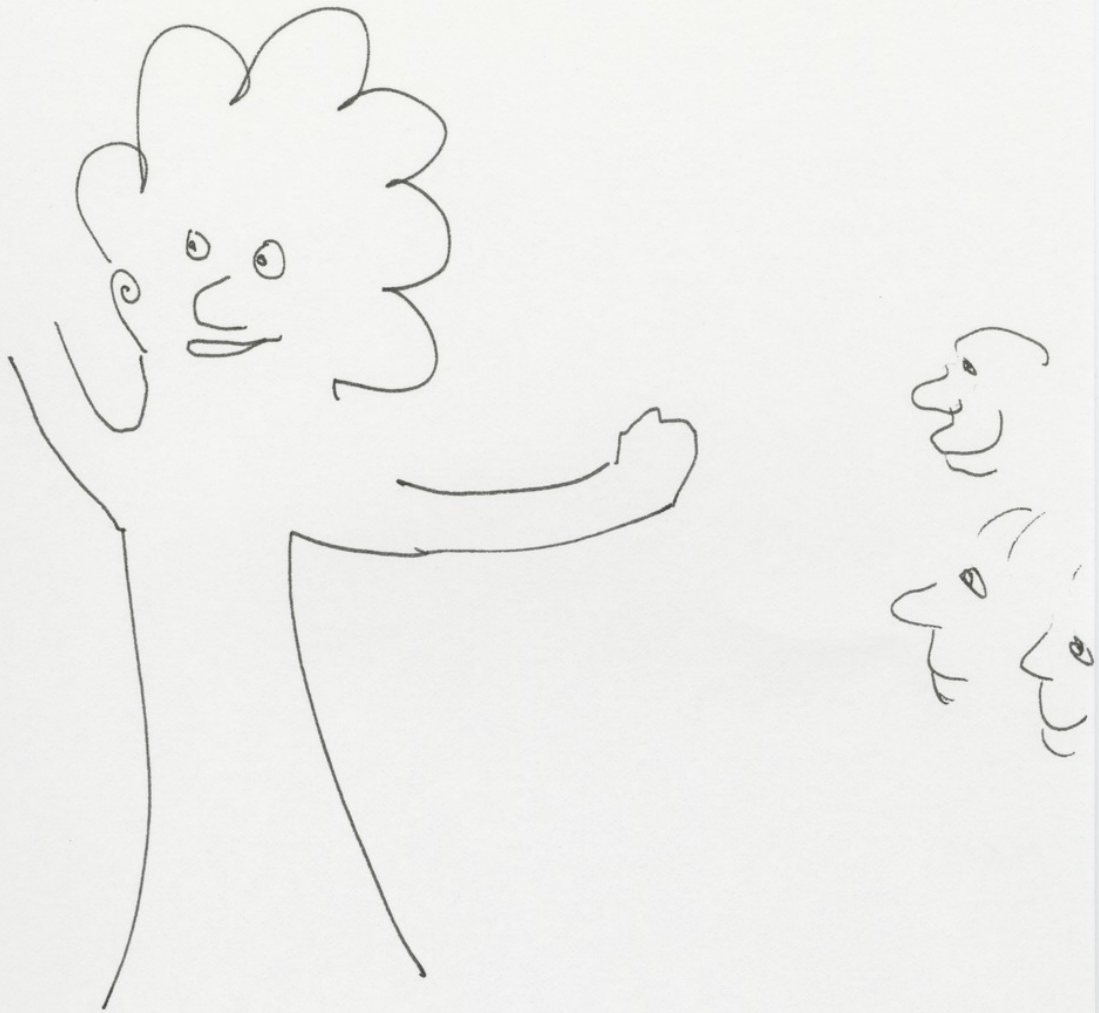

A party guest decided to scoop some of the goop onto a plate.

The party guest had a spoonful and said, "This tastes really bad! What is it?"

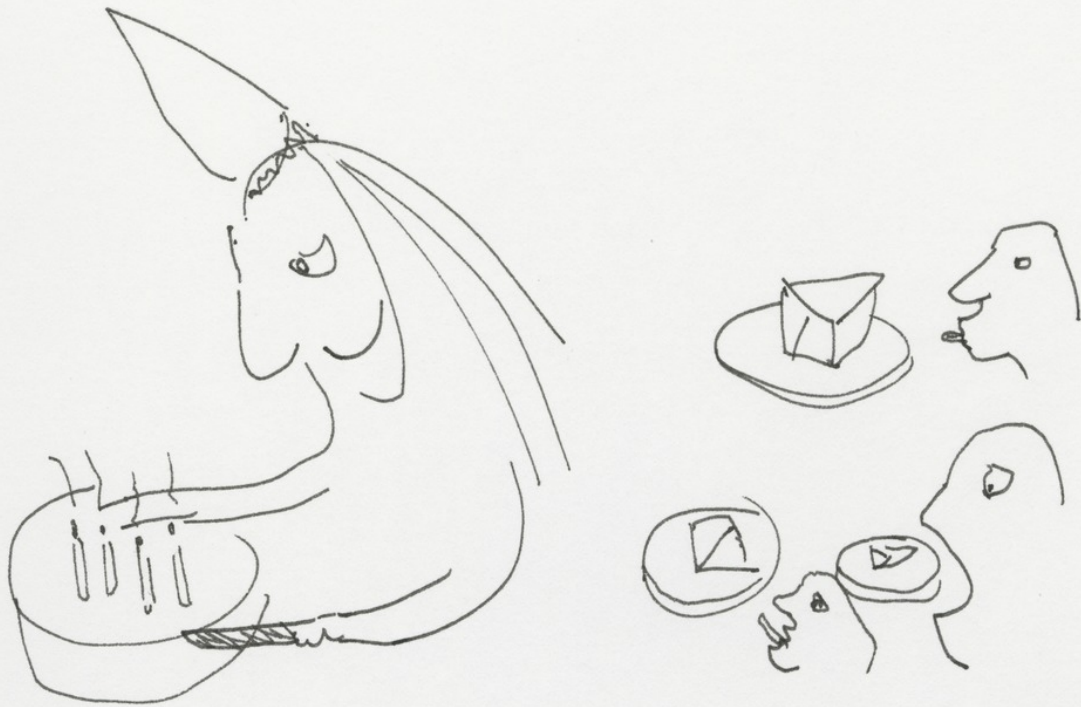

It's applesauce and it's very good to <sup>eat</sup> ~~eat~~, "Apple Tree the bunny said.

Bunny started telling the party guests how important it was to eat fruits and vegetables.

"But don't take my word for it. I'm an apple tree!"

Then the princess cut the cake and everyone had a piece.

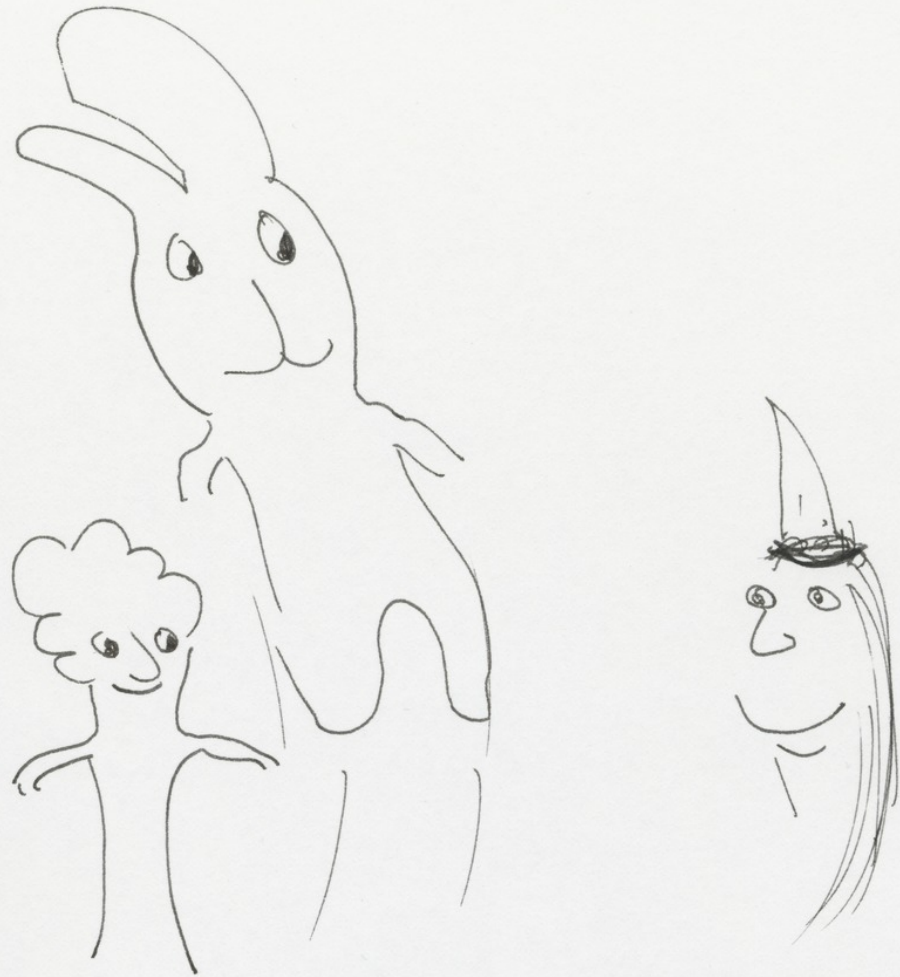

The cake was made out of noodly strings. There was icing on the top that said "HAVE A FUN BIRTHDAY."

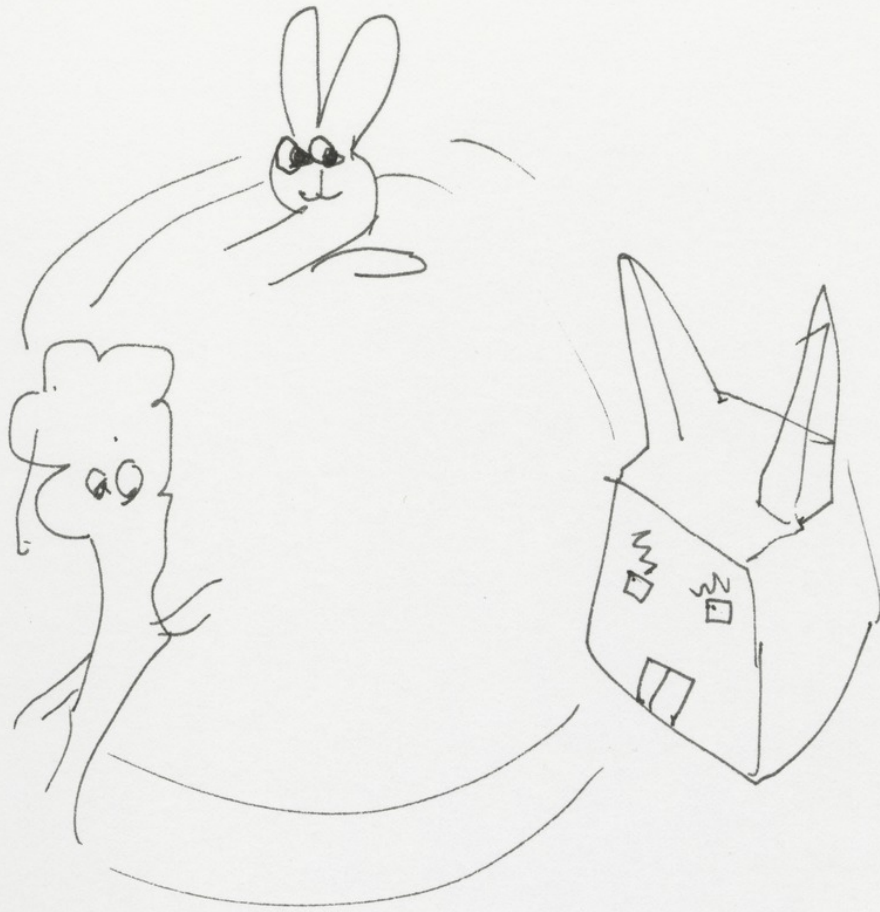

Believe it or not, but the cake was made out of pumpkin squash!

Bunny and Apple Tree thanked the princess for inviting them.

They left and then they started chasing the castle
