

Marmalade

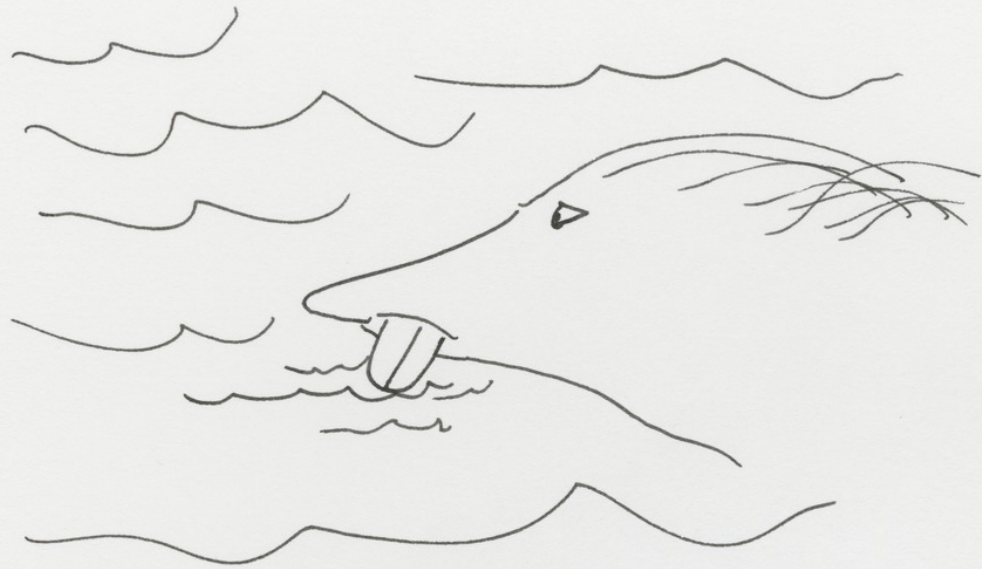

There was a horse<sup>named Marmalade</sup> who went to school.

She was jumping over the things you jumped over and then she jumped off a cliff.

She jumped over the edge and into a lake and the lake was filled with tomato soup.

she tasted it. Do you know how tomato soup tastes?

Marmalade was stuck at the bottom of the lake.

A helicopter named Gerald came and took the horse back to safety back at the horse's house.

Then, the mother of the horse asked, "do you want to play in the house?"

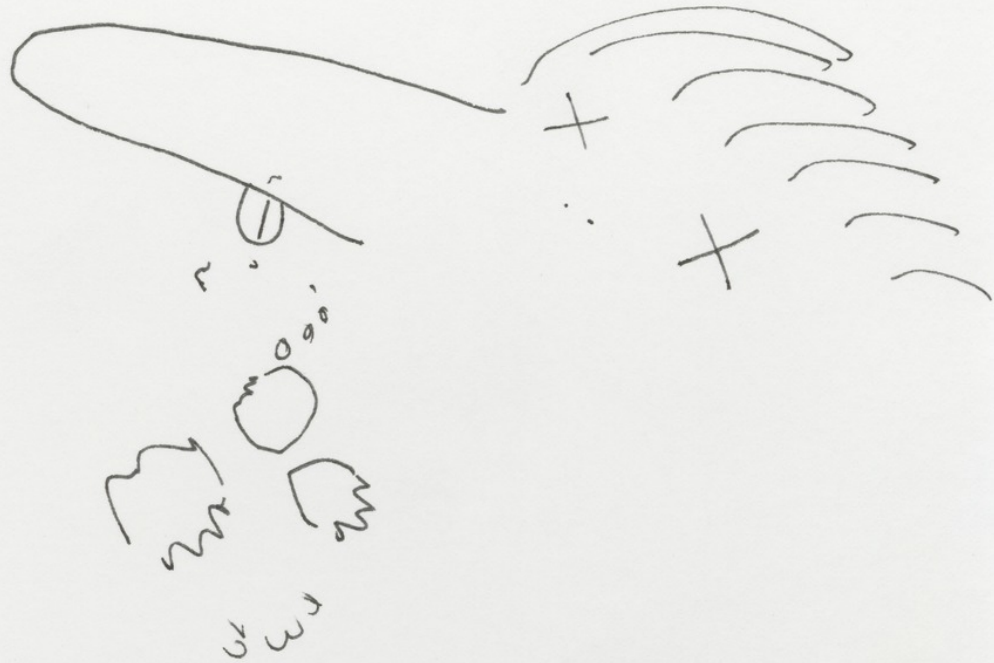

Playing was Marmalade's favorite hobby.

Marmalade said, "Yes! But first, snacks!"

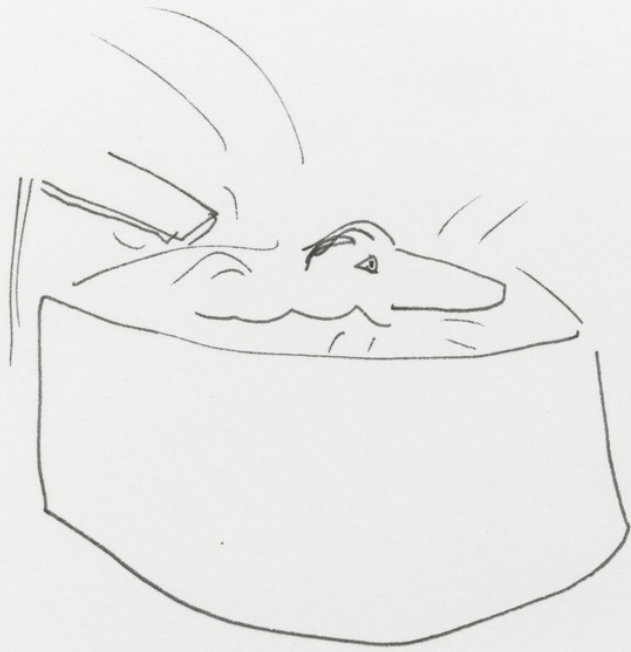

Marmalade the horse ate crackers and the crackers got stuck in her mouth.

She had ~~that~~ too many crackers!

After she washed down the crackers with water
she played in the backyard pool.

And guess what? The pool was filled with tomato soup!
